

Quinton Friesen

Senior National Property Specialist

Saskatoon, SK

Overview

With nearly three decades spanning construction management and insurance consulting, Quinton Friesen brings a rare combination of technical precision and field insight to complex property losses across Western and Northern Canada. He began his career in 1996 in large-scale construction, where he managed multi-million-dollar projects through challenging contract, scheduling, and scope disputes, gradually developing a reputation for practical problem-solving and leadership under pressure. His subsequent experience on the property claims team with a national insurer expanded his understanding of insurance losses and the importance of communication between contractors, adjusters, and property owners.

Since joining Pario Quantify in 2016, Quinton has specialized in cost consulting and valuation services for residential, commercial, industrial, agricultural, and heritage facilities. He applies deep knowledge of estimating, contract law, and building codes to deliver transparent, defensible results that stand up under audit and support confident decision-making. Quinton ensures every file is resolved with confidence and trust, exemplifying Pario Quantify's values of integrity, accuracy, and collaboration.
